ARGENTINE MINISTER TAKES SUDDEN TRIP TO WASHINGTON TO CONFERENCE

Minister Naon Breaks Away From Niagara Falls To Hold Hearings With Wilson, Bryan and Constitutionalist Agent to Whom He Made a Personal Appeal For Representation, it is Said.

The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 18.—Minister Naon, one of the mediators, tonight expressed the hope that the mediation would bring peace to Mexico. He was boarding a train for Niagara Falls after a series of conferences with President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Luis Cabrera, of the Washington agency of the constitutionalists.
Naon would say whether or not a new plan had been devised to break the deadlock. Official quarters here today said that the United States had not changed its position that only a constitutionalist could be accepted as provisional president.
Cabrera, even after newspaper men saw him enter the Argentine legation where Naon was, denied that he had conferred with him. Neither Bryan nor Naon would admit that there had been a conference with the constitutionalist representative. Later it was learned that one object of Naon's visit here was to try to induce the constitutionalists to waive temporarily their objections to the mediator considering Mexico's internal situation. Naon is said to have suggested that if the constitutionalists would agree to a provisional government, the United States and mediatory powers would aid in settling the internal conflict. It was not denied that the personal of the provisional government was discussed.
